Jewish Community Relations Council

Available for Local Reaction Breaking News from Middle East

The Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC) is the central public affairs arm of the organized Jewish community spanning six counties of the Greater Bay Area. We represent more than 80 synagogues and Jewish organizations in the Bay Area on issues of vital concern to Jews as individuals and as a community here and abroad.

We are available with experienced spokespeople for local reaction to breaking news emerging from the Middle East peace talks in Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt.
